Good morning -

As the board considers the Regional Transportation Plan, I would urge you all to revise the amorphous definition of 'high capacity transit' to include frequent (15 minute headways or less) bus service to freeway stations on divided highways with HOV lanes.

Under current practice, cities like Hunts Point, Yarrow Point, Clyde Hill, and Medina - all founded on the very principles of exclusion - continue to evade their duties to increase housing, all while being given absolute premier transit and transportation service.

Respectfully yours,

Tarn Ohana
