Approval of Meeting Summary
The summary for the January 12, 2022 Regional FTA Caucus meeting was approved as presented.

Action: King County Metro Redistribution Requests
Sarah Gutschow, PSRC, reviewed two King County Metro funding redistribution requests:

- Redistributing $30,748,517 in 2022 5307 Earned Share funds and $5,298,616 in 2022 5307 Preservation Set-aside funds between projects; and
- Redistributing $7,581,876 in 2022 FTA 5337 HIMB funds between projects.

The Caucus voted unanimously to recommend the requests for approval by the Transportation Operators Committee (TOC).

Action: King County Metro Funding Allocation Request
Sarah reviewed the King County Metro request to allocate $9,501,611 in previously unprogrammed 2022 5337 HIFG funds to five projects. The Caucus voted unanimously to recommend the requests for approval by the TOC.

Discussion: 2022 FTA Partial Apportionments
Sarah provided an update on the recently released 2022 FTA partial apportionments. She then reviewed some different options for distributing the partial apportionments. The Caucus discussed the options and came to a consensus to wait until the 2022 full year apportionments were released to conduct the annual adjustments process.

Discussion: Project Tracking Working Group Update
Sarah provided an update on recent meetings of the Project Tracking Working Group, which was formed to review project tracking policies and procedures for projects experiencing delays in obligating their regional FTA funds or “flexed” FHWA funds. She reported the group would be meeting again later in March to finalize its recommendations to the Caucus.

Discussion: 2022 Project Selection Update

Sarah noted that PSRC had recently released the Call for Projects for the 2022 Project Selection process for FHWA funds. The project selection process for 2025-2026 FTA funds was on hold until after the Transportation Policy Board had discussed potential updates to the FTA project selection process at its upcoming meetings.

PROJECT TRACKING WORKING GROUP RECOMMENDATIONS

In Brief: In January 2022, the Regional FTA Caucus formed a working group to review PSRC’s policies and procedures for projects experiencing delays in obligating regional FTA funds and “flexed” FHWA funds. The working group developed a suite of recommendations with the goal of ensuring timely funding obligations. At its May 11th meeting, the Caucus will discuss and potentially recommend the proposed updates to the Transportation Operators Committee.

Background: In 2021, PSRC staff worked with the Regional FTA Caucus to review and update procedures for projects experiencing delays in obligating regional FTA (competitive and preservation set-aside) or “flexed” FHWA funds. Based on these discussions, the Caucus decided that staff would begin reaching out to sponsors if applications were not submitted six months after their creation for regional FTA funds, and three months after being flexed for FHWA funds. The purpose of the outreach would be to gather information on the reasons for delay and evaluate if additional follow-up was needed from PSRC and the Caucus.

Following this update, staff reached out to sponsors with projects meeting those criteria, and then presented a summary of the information gathered to the Caucus at its January 2022 meeting. Based on this information, the Caucus decided to form a working group to look at further modifications to PSRC’s project tracking policies and procedures for projects with funds that have not yet obligated well after the point of meeting PSRC’s initial obligation requirements.

The working group held three meetings in February and March 2022 to review potential policy and procedural updates. The resulting recommendations are detailed in the next section. The goals of these modifications are to ensure that both processes maintain consistency with the integrity of the competitive process, projects continue to stay on track and funds are used efficiently.

Proposed Updates:

Evaluation of Reasons for Delay

The working group discussed potential reasons for delay that would be considered either reasonable or unreasonable. The primary consideration in determining whether a delay would be considered reasonable is whether the delay is due to factors outside of the sponsor’s control. Regardless of the reason for delay, the sponsor is expected to demonstrate that they have been putting in effort to progress their application through the grant process in TrAMS, the FTA’s grant management system. Examples of reasonable and unreasonable delays are outlined below.
Reasonable Delays

| Processing delays by FTA or other resource agencies, e.g. NEPA approval |
| New FTA requirements, expectations or interpretations |

Unreasonable Delays

| Significant changes to scope |
| Shifting priorities within the agency |
| Insufficient funding |
| Work that was not begun in a reasonable time to meet the obligation deadline |

Project Tracking Procedures

Regional FTA – Proposed Procedural Update

Current Policy: FTA regional funds are allowed a one-year grace period beyond their estimated date to obligate funds. Funds are considered obligated once the sponsor has created a grant application in TrAMS.

Proposed Update: FTA regional funds will continue to be allowed a one-year grace period beyond their estimated obligation date to obligate funds. PSRC staff will check in with the sponsor five months after the estimated obligation date if the FTA grant application has not yet been transmitted.

Within one month of the notification from PSRC, the project sponsor is expected to provide further information on the status of the project, any expected delays that would impact their ability to obligate within the one-year grace period, their work with FTA to progress the application and any project work already ongoing under pre-award authority. If the sponsor does not respond with this information by the deadline, the funds would then be at risk of being returned to the region.

Terminology

- Grant creation: the application has been started in TrAMS.
- Grant transmittal: first application draft is ready for FTA review.
- Grant_submit: the application is ready for FTA approval.
PSRC and the Regional FTA Caucus would then review the information gathered to decide if the project is on track and, if not, review the reasons for the delay and determine if an extension is warranted. Based on this review:

- For reasonable delays, the Caucus would determine next steps on a case-by-case basis. Next steps could include setting a check-in date for the project and/or revising the obligation schedule for the funds and recommending a one-time obligation date extension. The revised deadline should fall within a reasonable time frame from the original deadline.

- For unreasonable delays, the obligation deadline and one-year grace period would still apply for transmitting the grant application. If the sponsor does not transmit the grant application by this deadline, the sponsor would be required to return the funds to the region.

Flexed Regional FHWA – Proposed Procedural Update

Current Policy: Transit agencies can “flex” their regional FHWA-funded projects to be managed by the FTA if approved by WSDOT. Sponsors have met PSRC’s FHWA obligation requirements when the funds have been flexed to FTA. It is expected that projects are ready to obligate once they have been flexed, and that once flexed they will still be accomplishing the project under the originally awarded scope and funding amount from the FHWA competitive process.

Proposed Update: Transit agencies will continue to be able to “flex” their regional FHWA-funded projects to be managed by the FTA if approved by WSDOT. PSRC staff will then check in with the sponsor five months after the original estimated obligation date if the grant application has not yet been submitted.

Within one month of the notification from PSRC, the project sponsor is expected to provide further information on the status of the project, the reasons for the delay, their work with the FTA on advancing the application and any project work already ongoing... under pre-award authority. If the sponsor does not respond with this information by the deadline, the funds would then be at risk of being returned to the region.

PSRC and the Caucus would then review the information gathered to decide if the project is on track. If the project is not on track, staff would work with the Caucus to review the reasons for the delay and determine if an extension is warranted. Based on this review:

- For reasonable delays, the Caucus would determine next steps on a case-by-case basis. Next steps could include setting the next check-in date for the project and/or revising the obligation schedule for the funds and recommending a one-time obligation date extension.
- For unreasonable delays, the Caucus would set a hard deadline for submitting the grant application, not to exceed one year after the original estimated obligation date. If the sponsor does not submit the grant application by this deadline, then they would be required to return the funds to the region.

Additional Proposed Updates

The working group proposed some additional procedural updates and clarifications to help strengthen current project tracking procedures, including:

- PSRC will inform the relevant project sponsor once WSDOT sends notification that the FHWA funds have been flexed to FTA.
- Project sponsors are encouraged not to bundle multiple TIP projects into one TrAMS application, if possible, particularly if one or more projects is likely to experience obligation delays.
- PSRC will review and potentially make modifications to current progress report forms to better capture information on FTA-funded projects that are at risk for delay or are already experiencing obligation delays.
- Once applications have fulfilled PSRC’s obligation requirements, the FTA would have primary responsibility for ensuring the funds progress through the grant process. PSRC would continue to monitor projects through its regular progress report and TIP amendment processes.
